

Ready for a digital world

Armeka Oy is developing a new design software for wire rope isolators with features ready for the new digitalized world.

With the new design software Armeka can offer flexible digital solutions that enable more efficient information exchange and utilization of next generation design tools and processes in cooperation with customers.

As already participating in development of new rising digital ecosystems steps have been made for e.g., utilizing digital twins in customer applications.

Co-funded by the European Union

The ongoing revolution in digital technology is huge and Armeka is ready to embrace it.